SAVE BIG MONEY

Abrams College has discovered that students can save money on textbooks by ordering directly from internet sites such as “amazon.com” and other providers of text books. We have seen some textbooks discounted as much as 80%!

The College has repeatedly requested that the publishers discount book prices for our students to be the same as internet prices. They have all refused. Therefore, we have listed each textbook with the identification number (ISBN) as well as the publisher, author and current edition for those who wish to purchase textbooks from other sources. Please note that some textbooks are only available through Abrams College, such as study guides.

Please be cautious whenever using these sites and use your best judgement regarding giving credit card information or other personal information over the web.
